FOIL ATTEMPT
ON LIFE ITALY'S
CROWN PRINCEItalian Attempted To Kill Young Prince
at Brussels

Brussels, Oct. 24. —(UP)—In the shadow of Belgium's unknown soldier's tomb, the royal romance of Crown Prince Umberto of Italy and Princess Marie Jose of Belgium narrowly missed tragedy today as the heir to the Italian throne escaped the bullet of a youthful would-be assassin, Fernando De Rosa.

The attempted assassination occurred at 9:45 A. M. only a few hours after a royal proclamation had announced the engagement which for weeks all Belgium and Italy had awaited.

Saved By Chauffeur
Spectators said that the chauffeur of the Prince's automobile probably saved the life of the heir to the Italian throne. The assassin's first shot was ineffective and the chauffeur knocked him down as he lifted a heavy calibre revolver to fire again at close range.

The remarkable coolness and bravery of the Crown Prince brought frenzied cheers from the crowd as he ordered the ceremony to go on as scheduled. He acknowledged shouts of "Vive le Prince! Vive Savoia!" with complete calm.

The program for the day was continued without interruption. After the Crown Prince had been congratulated by Princess Marie Jose at the Italian embassy they stood together in line to receive members of the Italian colony.

Rode in King's Auto

In the automobile of King Albert of Belgium Prince Umberto had driven through crowded and cheering lanes to the cenotaph to place a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier. The automobile had come to a stop beside the edifice. The band struck up the Italian national anthem.

Prince Umberto started to descend from the automobile. Police, gendarmes and troops stood at attention. Few saw the youthful assailant slip through the wooden barriers surrounding the unknown soldier's tomb.

At a distance of about ten yards, the youth drew a revolver and fired one shot at the Prince. The bullet missed its mark, presumably because of the haste of the youth in firing.

Beaten by Crowd
Police surrounded Prince Umberto and the royal car but before they could seize the youth, King Albert's chauffeur leaped from behind the wheel and struck him to the ground. Angry citizens pounced on the youth and were administering a severe beating before police interfered.

Prince Umberto directed that the ceremony take place as planned. While police carried the bleeding De Rosa away, the Prince, amid cheers, calmly walked to the tomb and placed a wreath upon it.

The assailant was taken to a police station. His name, he said, was Fernando De Rosa. He was 21 years old, a student from Milan, Italy, and said he came to Brussels from Paris on the night train. Arriving in the Belgian capital in time to join the celebration over the announcement of the engagement.

The Prince at the tomb reviewed the Belgian troops which had been assembled for the ceremony. Then he left in the King's automobile for the Italian embassy.

Prince Given Ovation

He was given another ovation as he arrived at the embassy. Hardly had he acknowledged the reception when King Albert and Princess Marie Jose appeared and added their congratulations.

Police announced that a second Italian had been arrested near De Rosa, but was released when it was learned he had been attempting to seize the young Milan student.

Few followed the police squad which carried De Rosa to the station but at the conclusion of the ceremony at the tomb, hundreds went to the station and began a demonstration.

The demonstration soon took up the cry of "a mort!" (to death) and angrily demanded that the prisoner be turned over to them.

De Rosa's injuries were slight although he had been kicked and crushed by the throng which seized him. The youth was tall, well dressed and handsome.

The youth readily declared he wanted to kill Prince Umberto because he (De Rosa) was anti-fascist and believed in the principles of the second international.

Capt. Leigh Wade, U. S. Army around-the-world flyer, and a companion were picked up at sea on August 3, 1924 when they were forced down in flight from Scotland to Iceland; Commander Francisco de Pinedo, Italian aviator, in flying from New Foundland May 23, was forced down near the Azores and was rescued by a steamer and later completed his four continent hop to Rome.

Last June Capt. Ramon Franco of Spain, and three fellow officers drifted at sea for a week before they were rescued near the Azores by a British warship. They had left Spain for the Azores in an attempt to fly to America when forced down.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 24. —(AP)—(By the Canadian Press)—The report from Harbor Grace that the S. S. Kyle had picked up a message reporting the finding of an airplane wreckage by an unidentified ship was stated by the Newfoundland management to be without foundation. The management has had no message from the Kyle, which is at present on the northern coast. It is believed the rumor originated from S. S. Seythia's message last night that no sign of the plane had been seen. This message was in code and the report spread that Urban F. Diteman, missing in his flight to London, had been found.

New York, Oct. 24. —(AP)—A possible landing in Greenland was the only hope airmen held today for the safety of Urban F. Diteman, Jr., Montana cattleman, long overdue on a solo flight from Newfoundland to London. This hope was slim, however.

Nothing has been seen or heard of the flier since he disappeared over the ocean ten minutes after taking off from Harbor Grace, N. F., at 10:45 A. M. (Eastern Standard Time) Tuesday. He left a note saying "Am bound for London."

His small open cockpit Bering monoplane Golden Hind carried 165 gallons of fuel, sufficient, he estimated, for 25 hours cruising. The 25 hours expired at 1:45 A. M. yesterday.

Gasoline Ordered
The hope that Diteman might be down somewhere on the coast of Greenland arose from an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen to London which said 150 gallons of gasoline had been ordered sent to Julianhaab, Greenland, for a "Mr. Diteman" two months ago. The order was filled, the gasoline being forwarded from Copenhagen.

PICK UP WRECKAGE
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 24. —(AP)—Hope that the car ferry, Milwaukee of the Grand Trunk fleet, with 52 aboard, had weathered the 48-hour storm on Lake Michigan, faded today with a report that wreckage from a boat had been picked up 10 miles off Wind Point, which is about four miles north of Racine.

Captain C. N. Bedell of the steamer Colonel told Grand Trunk officials here that he sighted empty life boats, mattresses and the upper parts of a white cabin, floating in the lake off Wind Point. The upper part of the Milwaukee was painted white. Some of the wreckage was picked up by the Colonel, but none of it carried any markings to make identification certain, Captain Bedell said.

CREW IS RESCUED
Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 24. —(AP)—Twenty-three seamen and officers of the stranded steamer, Maple Court, of the Canada Steamship Lines, were rescued by a coast guard cutter at 4:30 A. M. today from their vessel, which has been hard aground on Magnetic Reef, Cockburn Island, in Lake Huron, since 4 A. M. Sunday.

The Maple Court was reported to be in "very bad shape" by members of the crew, who reached Detroit this morning. The ship, they said, is wedged on a rock and being severely pounded by the waves.

Neither Captain H. Staules, the commander, nor any of the rest of the crew suffered from their three and a half day battle with the lake. The crew planned to take a bus to the Sault this morning.

FATE OF MANY UNCERTAIN
Chicago, Oct. 24. —(AP)—Region of the Great Lakes, storm-scarred and wind-whipped, today counted its losses in men and money.

The fate of at least 140 persons, caught on the lakes in the fury of the storm, remained uncertain early today. Fifty-two were aboard the car ferry Milwaukee which left the port of Milwaukee at 2 P. M. Tuesday for Grand Haven and which at dawn today still was unreported. Eighty-eight persons were aboard craft imperiled by the pounding waves in the upper lakes.

Fears were felt for the steamer William B. Pilkey and its crew of 32 men. The ship was aground on a reef off Gravel Island, east of Detroit. The steamer Maple Court was on the rocks near Cockburn Island in Lake Huron. It carried a crew of 23 men. The steel sanduscker C. A. Caldwell, with a crew of 16, was aground in Lake Erie off Leamington, Ont.

Property loss will run into the millions with the city of Chicago a heavy sufferer. The estimate of damage to Chicago breakwaters, boulevard systems and parks was fixed at $2,000,000 with private property damage adding another million.

Some crop damage resulted from the snow storm that trailed across Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Loss of Auto
Washington, Oct. 24. —(UP)—Two Negroes whose automobile was parked on the railroad tracks over which President Hoover's train was to pass near New Albany, Ind., have been placed under arrest, the Justice Department was advised today.

Authorities here were inclined to doubt reports that the man attempted to tamper with the President's train. The White House likewise denied knowledge of such a report.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 24. —(UP)—Two Negroes who drove an automobile onto the tracks in the path of President's Hoover's special train at Snyder Station, near New Albany, Ind., last night, were under arrest here today.

The Negroes, Ed. Wright, 23, and Charles W. Burlock, of Jeffersonville, Ind., were said to have confessed that they intended to wreck the automobile to collect insurance, but that they did not know President Hoover was aboard the train.

The train was delayed 18 minutes while Secret Service operatives questioned the two, who later were brought here for arraignment. The charges to be placed against them, if any, have not been determined.

The Negroes confessed, according to federal officers, that after the car was wrecked they intended to sue the railroad for damages.

MASTER FILMS DESTROYED IN
MORNING FIREOne Man Lost Life
When Big Laboratory
Burned Today

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 24. —(AP)—An explosion and fire destroyed the laboratory of the Consolidated Film Industries here early today, causing a loss estimated at many millions. Fifty persons in the building fled to safety during intervals between four detonations which wrecked the place. One man was killed.

The laboratory was being used by about 75 per cent of the motion picture producers here. Losses included the master films of several new screen productions.

Fire department officials said the loss estimates were only tentative, however, and that an accurate list of the expensive master films would have to be obtained before a better figure could be given.

One Man Killed.
The only death was that of Albert Lund, who was found unconscious near a film polishing machine after firemen had quenched the blaze. He died while being taken to a hospital.

Two women workers who ran as the first flash of flame spread through the building, said they saw the first explosion occur in a pile of chemicals near one of the polishing machines in an assembly room.

Lund was believed to have been knocked unconscious by the blast, and to have lain helpless as the fire swept over him.

C. M. Lockwood, a film company executive working in a projection room, said 35 women and 15 men were in the structure when the first explosion occurred, and that he had accounted for them all except Lund.

In the confusion immediately following the explosion several persons known to have been in the building could not be located, giving rise to fears that they had perished.

Master Films Lost.
Among the master films known to have been in the building were "Hell's Angels," valued at $60,000; "The Taming of the Shrew," produced by Douglas Fairbanks, value not given; "Trespassers," an all-talking production and "Rio Rita," a talking-singing film.

William LeBaron, Vice President and General Manager of Radio-Keith-Orpheum Productions, said he believed the first few days' filming of one of his company's most costly productions had been in the building. The structure itself was valued at $400,000.

That first estimates of the loss might be considerably reduced was indicated when employees of the laboratory and firemen reported that much of the film had been stored in bottles and possibly was undamaged. Closing of several fire doors in the building also may have saved some of the productions.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 24. —(UP)—Representative Robert S. Scholes, 63, long a leader in Republican state politics and twice speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives, died at his home here late yesterday after an illness of three years. Pneumonia and a complication of the heart ailment which had kept him virtually bedridden the last year caused Scholes' death.

Since his illness Scholes was in Springfield only once, when he went to vote for the old age pension law, and Speaker David Shannahan came to Peoria last January to administer the oath of his last term of office.

Scholes was born in Peoria Dec. 5, 1866, attended Peoria schools and was admitted to the bar in 1889. In 1893 he married Miss Edna M. Partridge. His wife and an only child, Mrs. Frank L. Norris, survive.

In 1904, Scholes was elected State's Attorney of Peoria county, serving six years. He first ran for the legislature in 1916, was elected Speaker of the House in 1925, and was re-elected in 1927.

Wood: Has Sister
in Minnesota

Coroner Frank M. Banker this afternoon believed that before tonight the body of the unidentified man, which is being held at the Stephan mortuary in Ashton, would be identified and the official expected word from a sister, Mrs. Jepperson, 114 Elm street, Owatona, Minn., with whom he communicated by telegram this morning. The receipt for the postoffice money order issued recently in Chicago, as was expected, will doubtless establish the man's identity.

Coroner Banker this morning received an answer to his letter to Postmaster Lueder of Chicago, where the money order receipt was traced. The letter brought the information that Roy H. Wood, residing at 230 North Lorel avenue, sent the money order to William H. Nieder, a jeweler at 752 East Sixty-third street. Inquiry at the jewelry store developed the fact that Wood had an account at the store and according to the jeweler, Wood had been employed by the firm of Sloan, Brown & Company.

When this firm was questioned, it was found that Wood had not been in their employ since last July. Last evening Postmaster Chadwick at Ashton received a long distance telephone message from Chicago from a Mr. Bigelow, who stated that Wood had boarded at 200 North Lorel avenue in that city and had a cousin residing in Chicago, whose address was not known. It was also stated that Wood had a sister, Mrs. Jepperson, residing at 114 Elm street, Owatona, Minn. This information was forwarded to Coroner Banker who sent a telegram to Mrs. Jepperson this morning.

Late yesterday, Coroner Banker learned that the stranger had spent some time in the restaurant operated by Mrs. Frank Bohart at Ashton.

HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS LOST
IN WILD PANICLeading Stock Started
Tumbling at Opening of Day's Trading

New York, Oct. 24. —(AP)—A stock market panic appeared to have been checked early this afternoon, as leading bankers issued reassurances, and prices of stocks, after declining $10 to $40 a share, rebounded sharply.

United States Steel common, after dropping $9.50 a share to $194.50, more than regained its loss, selling at 1:30 P. M. at $206. Johns Manville, which had dropped $40 to $140, jumped to $175. American Telephone after tumbling $21 to $251, snapped back to $268.

Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange up to 1:30 P. M. were 10,171,000 shares, breaking all records, and comparing with a turnover of 8,246,740 shares for the full session of the previous record day, Mar. 26, last.

While the terrific collapse of prices was by far the most precipitous ever seen, veteran Wall Street observers said that the decline, in view of the current high prices, was relatively smaller and considerably less disastrous than have been experienced in panic times in the past.

BULLETIN
New York, Oct. 24. —(UP)—Sales on the Stock Exchange broke all records today, passing 10,000,000 shares at 1:30 P. M.

The previous record was made on March 26 when sales crossed the 8,000,000 mark for the entire day.

Today's total at 1:30 P. M. of 10,171,900 shares brought the sales to date to 925,192,430 shares for the year. This amount is greater than any previous full year in the history of the Stock Exchange.

The 10,000,000 shares at 1:30 is on the basis of a trade more than 14,000,000 shares for a full day.

New York, Oct. 24. —(AP)—Wall Street experienced the darkest day in years today as a selling movement approaching panic proportions completely demoralized the stock market and hundreds of millions of dollars in quoted values disappeared by the minute. Such leading stocks as U. S. Steel tumbled $9 a share to $195, Standard of New Jersey $11 to $62.50, American Telephone $23 to $249 and Johns Manville $40 to $140.

The situation became so acute by early afternoon that a report was sent out over private wires that the stock market would be closed at 1 o'clock, but this was later denied by the New York Stock Exchange, which announced just before 1 o'clock that no call had been issued for a meeting of the Board of Governors to take action.

Trading during the first half hour totaled 1,676,300 shares. A new high record for the period and at the rate of more than 16,700,000 shares a day. The period turnover was established on March 26, when approximately 8,200,000 shares were traded.

Washington Reports
Financial news tickers flashed unofficial reports from Washington during the mid-morning stating that Treasury officials do not consider that the terrific fluctuations in stock prices in any way reflect business conditions, adding that profits from business are still large and increasing regularly.

Sales on the stock exchange from 10 o'clock until noon totaled 5,700,000 shares, a new high record. Trading was at the rate of more than 14,000,000 shares a day, contrasted to the record day's turnover of more than 8,200,000 shares on March 26. By early afternoon, ticker quotations were more than an hour behind floor transactions.

Sales on the curb up to noon also reached a new high record. A total of 2,585,000 shares being traded. The curb ticker was 70 minutes late at that time.

Break Unprecedented.
The precipitate drop was attributed generally to the break in the stock markets, but the violence of the outburst was unprecedented and caught the traders unprepared.

A heavy volume of selling orders had accumulated overnight and met few offers to buy. Within an hour wheat had slipped down five cents a bushel, but the second hour found selling orders hurled into the pits indiscriminately, with losses of two or three cents within a minute's time.

Goitre Not A Disease

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery.

Milwaukee, Wis.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. B24, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The Doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Write him today.—Adv.

THE COTTAGE UNDER THE DOWNS

UBRETTA, wallflower, and forget-me-not. And lilac lifting up its languorous head Above an old thatched roof; Three gray stone walls ascending, tier on tier. A slanting field with trees that meet the sky.

A cottage window with the sash up-flung. Makes a fit frame for all this love-liness. While stillness broods within; Here may you come and feel the world forgot. The busy world of cities, men, and things.

Chorus of blackbird, thrush, and linnet greets The climbing sun, as high in heaven it swings; Scene the cloudlets drift, Shepherded by the warm south wind that blows, Bringing the fragrant garden to this room.

Dear cottage! full of glad, sweet memories And joyous hours, folding the traveler. In peace immeasurable; Beyond the fancied stuff of poet's dream. Tranquillity your dower and heritage!

THE CHILDREN WILL LIKE THIS ONE—

It was a fine autumn morning in the wild woodland, but more summery than autumnal.

The sun was warm. A pleasant breeze Blew through the wood, And on the trees The leaves still clung, Though here and there They waved bright colors In the air.

Summer was gone. But one might say That winter still Was far away. And through the wood, As was his habit, Went hippity-hopping Robert Rabbit.

Why, Yes, You Can Have Cranberries

IT'S a serious question, this one of cranberries, now that Thanksgiving is coming near. So serious that Professor William H. Sawyer, Jr., of Bates College, has spent nearly two years of research and experimentation at the Cryptogamic Botany Laboratories at Harvard University seeking a way to exterminate a parasite upon cranberries which has been rapidly causing the disappearance of these bright red berries from the New England marshlands. He now announces a discovery, in the form of a plant or mould parasite aimed at the parasitic growth now threatening the cranberry, which will mean the probable destruction of that growth.

Cranberry Recipes

Everyone knows about the cranberry sauce that is invariably served with Thanksgiving turkey, and most people know that excellent cranberry sauce can be secured in cans. But how many people know of the other delicious ways in which to use this product? Have you ever tried, for instance?

Cranberry Ice Box Cake: Put the contents of one No. 2 can of cranberry sauce, one-half cup of seedless raisins, one-third cup of chopped nuts, ten chopped dates and a third of a cup of water in a saucepan, and heat slowly and carefully until the cranberry sauce is somewhat thick. Cut a small sponge cake in slices, and put alternate layers of the sliced sponge cake and the cranberry mixture in a buttered mold, finishing with cake. Pack down well, and let stand overnight in the ice box. Unmold and slice. Serve with cream or any desired sauce. These quantities will serve eight.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
© 1929 by NEA Service Inc.

If we are wondering why our children are cross and irritable, perhaps it's because we are cross and irritable ourselves.

Are we forever asking them to do unreasonable things? That's another cause for temper in children. So many parents order their children about like machines, never stopping to think that on top of those machines are heads—thinking heads—and that in their breasts are hearts—heart that can't help reacting bitterly sometimes at injustice and thoughtlessness.

Aren't we forever, shouting "Stop!" or "Go and do this or that" without the slightest regard of what they happen to be doing at the minute? There will probably be a protest at this, but so be it. Until we can begin to treat children with a fraction of the consideration that we have for people of our own age, I'm afraid we'll have to put up with anger, and temper, and sulks and all sorts of things. Certainly we have the right to expect obedience, and pretty prompt obedience, at that, but it is surprising how well consideration on the part of the parent and willing obedience on the part of the child, mix.

"Jerry, go down and drop this letter in the box."

"Oh, Mother, I just have three pages to finish this book and the mail isn't lifted until six. Please, may I?"

How to Answer?
We can say, "Yes, certainly, Jerry, but go the instant you're through," or we can say, "March, sir! When I tell you to do a thing, do it."

It isn't necessary to point out the reply that will leave a glow of warm gratitude in Jerry's breast, or the one that will smoulder and flare up in flame, not so much at disappointment over the story which he can finish later on, as at being treated so summarily just because he is a growing boy.

Of course, it all depends. Jerry's hurt need not rankle if he is the sort of boy who needs martial orders.

Perhaps he is a careless, forgetful fellow, who, as soon as he finishes his book, will go out and play ball and let the letter lie on the table. In that case it is quite fair to say, "Son, I know what happens when you put things off. I can't depend on you, so I can't do you the favor of letting you finish your book now. You'll have to go."

But to back to the question of anger causes in children. I think we'll find that many of them can be avoided if we use our own judgment a possibility until they can witness in our treatment of them.

Self-control in children cannot be self-control in their parents.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

MODERN BATHROOM HAS QUILTED MATS

Since color came into its own, the bathroom has become the most attractive room in the house in thousands of homes. A useful accessory that can be made at little or no expense is the quilted bath mat, shown here, which is very much in vogue and at the same time extremely practical. Every bathroom should have a supply of at least three of them.

It is made from two flour bags, a piece of flannel or woolen goods for interlining and some bits of colored gingham which every scrap basket ought to be able to produce. The mats may be round or oval. If round, they are about 24 inches across; if oval, they should measure about 24x30 inches. Place the interlining between the two pieces of flour bag material and stitch around by machine or hand two or three rows, half an inch apart. Bind the outer edges together with a bias strip of the gingham. These mats would be ideal for selling at a church bazaar and the returns would be virtually all profit. If you have not a supply of flour bags on hand, they can usually be bought from a nearby baker for a few cents each. Remove the stamping by soaking it in kerosene overnight and then washing with warm water and soap.

THE POVERTY OF WEALTH.

"Our wealth has made us rich and left us poor, and it has increased our power and destroyed our peace."

This statement comes from a report adopted by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal church. Coming, as it does, on the heels of 6,000,000-share days in the stock exchange, it seems rather timely.

We have grown into a rather peculiar attitude in the past decade. Despite the fact that good many citizens have had to go hungry at various times in that period, we have been, on the whole, very prosperous. Gorgeous new buildings have shot up in every city. The number of automobiles has increased tremendously. The radio has come into existence as an added luxury for the ordinary man. Movie theaters have grown ornate as grand opera houses.

All of this has given us a warped outlook. We have fallen into the habit of judging everything on a hard cash basis. No more do we respond to appeals to our idealism or our altruism. The man we will follow is the man who can tell us how we shall get more money in our pockets. We gauge our progress in dollars. We believe that we have advanced greatly because we are vastly richer than we used to be—and if anyone dissents we put him down as a bolshevik.

Now, most refreshingly, an organization of churchmen raises its voice to remark that there are other standards than the money standard. It suggests that there may be more important things than prosperity.

Heresy, of course. Yet it is quite possible that the American people, in steadily-increasing numbers, will come to adopt such attitudes in the near future.

Although Europe has called us a nation of dollar-chasers for generations, we are not and never have been, a materialistic people. From the very beginning Americans have been idealists and visionaries. Our entrance into the World War, for instance, may have been, at bottom, a matter of money; yet the support of the people as a whole was won by appeals to the intangible values—liberty, democracy, freedom.

Ever since the war we have been content to follow the dollar. But the pendulum will swing the other way. We shall discover, in due time, the truth of this remark of the churchmen—that we can be vastly rich in money but lamentably poor in the things that are most worth having.

When that day comes we shall realize that material prosperity is a means to an end, and not an end in itself.

ROYALTY STRIPPED.

King Gustav of Sweden is said to have surrendered voluntarily the ancient royal right to distribute decorations. A committee has been appointed to decide hereafter, in his place, who are to receive the stars, eagles, lions, etc., of the various orders.

Whether voluntary or involuntary, this is about the limit of royal self-effacement. Titles of nobility have already been stripped from royalty. When a king no longer distributes honorary badges, and the prestige that goes with them, the fountain of honor has run dry. What else is left for king to do?

They can rubber-stamp their names to legal documents. They can also lay cornerstones, though crown princes are more and more taking over that job.

The honeymoon is over when the husband wants something for breakfast that is not in the pantry.

Patent offices report that the Swiss are the world's greatest inventors. And not the least of that reputation was built upon the cheesiest kind of work.

Skeltons have been put on the tariff list. There's one in every family closet, anyway.

It's an optimistic country, according to a visiting British journalist. He must have ignored the coaches' opinions on the sports pages.

Most of the members of Congress play golf, a Washington reporter discovers. You can fasten almost any kind of a joke on Congress.

President Hoover recently was given a 'possum by a Virginia boy. That may be a good tip for the president on the tariff question.

The Department of Agriculture has issued a bulletin on how to make wet cellars dry. Why, Department, how could you!

Chicago is lagging in the war for health, according to a Chicago newspaper's headline. Why try to be healthy in that town, anyway?

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNOCK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The scarecrow, tied fast to the tree looked just as funny as could be. He tried real hard to wiggle loose, but it was all in vain. He didn't like his prison place and so a frown spread on his face. At first the Tinymites thought it was because he was in pain.

Then Scouty laughed and said, "Don't fret. We haven't hurt the scarecrow yet. He's merely made of straw and hay and cannot feel a thing. What shall we do to make him sad and sorry that he's acted bad? It's our turn now to pay him back, 'cause he has had his fling."

"He made one Weeone lose his breath and scared the rest of us to death. I think he's just a mean old man who teases tots for fun. Let's build a fire beneath his feet. I guess he'll find that's not so sweet. If he keeps acting funny we will cook him till he's done."

The scarecrow yelled with all his might. "The fire will burn me out of sight. Please let me go. I'll promise that I'll never again be bad. Right now you've scared me quite enough. To build a fire would be too rough. Please let me go. It seems that plenty punishment I've had."

Just then a voice rang clear and loud and frightened all the Tinymites. "Hey, there," the voice said. "What's up now? I'm coming to find out!" My goodness what an awful plight. A farmer dashed right into sight. The Tinymites and Weeones scattered promptly all about.

The scarecrow cried, "Hurray for me. Come farmer man, and set me free." The farmer did and then he said, "I'll fix this little bunch. They tied my scarecrow to a tree. 'Twas just to play a trick on me. They may have thought it funny, but 'twas quit a nerry hunch."

(A cow saves the Tinymites and Weeones in the next story.)

DANIEL WEBSTER

Today is the 77th anniversary of the death of Daniel Webster, famous American statesman, orator and constitutional lawyer, on Oct. 24, 1852 at his home at Marshfield, Mass.

Hardly in the history of the country has there been a more general expression of sorrow; the mourning can only be compared with that which followed the death of Washington and Lincoln.

Early in life, Webster won distinction as a lawyer. In 1812, he was first elected to Congress by the party opposed to the war with England. In 1820 he delivered the oration at Plymouth on the second centennial on the landing of the Mayflower, in 1825 an oration at the laying of the cornerstone of the Bunker Hill monument, and in 1826 an eulogy on Adams and Jefferson—three addresses which established his fame as one of the greatest of orators. Many of Webster's sound principles have been incorporated in the Federal Reserve Bank system. As secretary of state he brought to a successful conclusion the negotiations with Lord Ashburton for the settlement of the northeast boundary dispute with Great Britain.

His last great speech, and one of the most notable, was delivered to Congress on the Compromise Measures of 1850.

His hopes of being nominated and elected president were never realized.

General Motors To Enter Flying Field

New York, Oct. 23—(AP)—Formation of a General Motors subsidiary to build flying boats of the type of the Dornier DO-X and incorporation of a Zeppelin Transport Company for service between California and Hawaii were announced today.

Alfred P. Sloan, president of General Motors Corporation, witnessed the successful test flight of the German-made Dornier DO-X with 169 persons aboard over Lake Constance, Switzerland, Monday.

The announcement said amphibians would be built in this country under Dornier design and patents in accordance with a agreement reached with the Dornier Aircraft Company of Germany several months ago.

GOVERNOR PLANS AID TO CONVICTS HIT BY DECISION

Conditional Pardons to be Granted 647 in State
Prisons

Springfield, Ill. —(AP)— With 40 recommendations for pardon before them, Governor Louis L. Emmerson and Director of Public Welfare Rodney Brandon are planning to appeal to the public for support in the pardoning of prisoners who have served six and a half years of the indeterminate 10-year to life term for armed robbery under the criminal code of 1919-1927.

Parole of 647 such prisoners now in penitentiaries was made impossible by a recent ruling of the Attorney General which was later confirmed by the Supreme Court. According to the Attorney General the prisoners must serve the minimum sentence of 10 years before they are eligible for parole.

Prior to the time of the decision however, 131 men convicted of armed robbery were paroled under the state good time law after serving two-thirds of their sentences. As these men were paroled since the law was changed in 1927, state authorities feel that the other prisoners should be granted a like advantage.

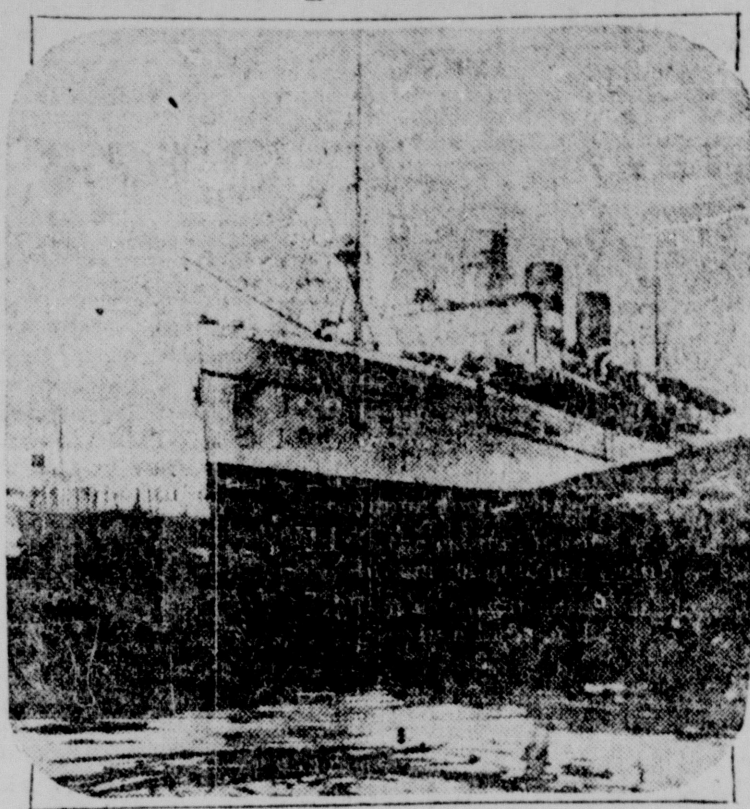

Think Treatment Unfair
The 647 men who have suffered from the change of law and the ruling of the Attorney General also believe they have been treated unfairly and prison authorities feel that they may cause serious trouble in the prisons unless some provision for their release is made.

After consulting with Governor Emmerson and Mr. Brandon, Assistant Attorney General M. S. Whiting declared that it is possible for the Governor to grant conditional pardons to the men who under the former practice would be eligible for parole.

Recognizing the injustice of the change of the state law to the men remaining in prison, the Governor agreed to grant conditional pardons to the prisoners, if he were supported in his action by the legislature. Both houses are said to have passed resolutions asking the Governor to conditionally pardon all deserving prisoners in the group of 647. The resolution however, has been lost, according to Mr. Brandon.

Loss of the resolution in the final rush of business of the legislature has led Mr. Brandon and the Governor to carry the case to the people. The Director of Public Welfare plans a campaign to convince the public that the constantly changing criminal laws together with the traditional attitude of the state toward the reduction of sentences for good time makes the pardoning of the men a necessity.

Pacific's Largest Liner Aground

The largest liner plying the Pacific Ocean—the Empress of Canada—is shown in this striking photo after it had piled on the rocks at Homer Bay, near Albert Head, British Columbia, during a dense fog. One hundred passengers were removed in safety, but the vessel was damaged to the extent of about $1,000,000. The steamer had just returned to Pacific service after being overhauled in England.

While the Attorney General has ruled that the 647 men may not be admitted to parole, the conditional pardons are so nearly parole that they cannot be distinguished from the former except on legal grounds.

Can Be Re-arrested
The conditional pardons will be granted on the condition that the prisoner discharges certain obligations. In the event he fails to comply with the conditions, he can be re-arrested and recommitted.

While at liberty on the pardons the prisoners will be under supervision similar to the supervision of parole. The right of the Governor to grant such pardons was upheld by the Attorney General in an opinion yesterday afternoon.

When the Department of Public Welfare has disposed of the cases of the 10-years-to-life prisoners, Mr. Brandon will attempt to obtain similar executive clemency for approximately 1,000 men who are now serving sentences of from 3 to 20 years and 5 to 20 years.

THE DANGER OF A BOIL
By Charles F. Kuhn, M. D.,
Detroit, Mich.

Member Gorgas Memorial
(The following is one of a series of articles prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial as part of its Better Health and Longer Life program. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Memorial, which has been organized and endowed by prominent doctors and laymen throughout the country to perpetuate the work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness.)

Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

The common knowledge of boils dates back to the time of Job, recorded in Holy Writ, when the evil spirit was credited with having afflicted him from head to foot with boils.

Boils, to the average person, are considered the results of impurities in the blood and are thought to be poisons. Many people still believe the old tradition that "Every boil is worth five dollars."

A boil is an inflamed and infected hair follicle. Its technical name is furuncle. The germ known as staphylococcus is the common organism causing most boils.

Lowered resistance, diabetes mellitus, systemic infections due to diseased teeth, tonsils, nose, ears, appendix, gall bladder, or fistula, irritation of clothing, scratching, uncleanliness, skin contact with oils, tar, or chemicals, also excessive indulgence in sweets are exciting causes of boils.

Boils occur commonly in hairy regions of the body—eyelids (styes), the canal of the ear, nose, back of the neck, face, limbs, and armpits. People should be warned against the popular practice of self treatment for the cure of this supposedly common affliction with the numerous remedies so frequently prescribed. Sulphur, cream of tartar, drinking lead water, swallowing fine lead shots are a few of these common remedies which are inert and often harmful.

The local application of carbolic salve, soap and sugar, beeswax and sugar, hot tea leaves, or flaxseed poultices, all of which macerate the skin, lower the resistance of the area involved and predispose to further the spread of infection, leading often to carbuncles with much suffering and danger.

Boils and carbuncles are nature's warning of devitalization, infection, or systemic disease. It is unsafe to attempt medication without ascertaining the cause.

Employment During September Greater

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 23.—(UP)— More persons were employed in Illinois during September than in any of the thirty three preceding months, according to State Department of Labor statistics. According to these figures employment in September was four per cent greater than in August, though payrolls showed a decrease of one and four-tenths percent, due to the Labor Day holiday. The percentages were based on reports from 1,445 concerns.

The increase was almost entirely seasonal affecting only four of the major industrial groups—food, textiles, wood products and public utilities.

Coal mining received a slight setback. It reported a nine tenths percent decrease in employment and a six and seven tenths drop in payrolls.

Among children of the same age, the tallest are often in a higher class than the others, according to the professor in Public Health at Edinburgh, Scotland.

The famous library of law and other books in the Middle Temple, London, now contains something like 70,000 volumes. It was founded in 1641.

Alaska's exports to the United States in 1928 totaled $87,567,207. The majority of Alaskan exports consisted of salmon, and other fresh and frozen fish.

How They Executed an Elephant in Texas

THE DEATH WATCH—Here's Black Diamond, circus elephant who ran amuck and killed a woman and tossed a keeper over a box car at Corsicana, Tex., being led to the scene of his execution near Corpus Christi, Tex., heavily chained between two members of his tribe. Circus officials decreed that Black Diamond should die for his crime.

IN CHAINS AND FETTERS—Taking no chances on a second outbreak by the crazed mammoth, circus men hobbled and fettered Black Diamond with nearly a ton of chains, as this remarkable closeup shows. Even his powerful trunk was chained to his body as an extra precaution.

RED CROSS PROVIDES PLAY AND COMFORTS FOR VETERANS

President and Mrs. Hoover Receive Disabled at White House Garden Party.

RECREATION in the form of picnics, visits to the theater and to the motion picture shows, dances and card parties, arranged by American Red Cross workers for the disabled veterans and sick service men in the Government hospitals throughout the country are universally commended by the authorities as of great value in aiding the men to recovery.

Only those men who are in the hospitals in Washington, the nation's capital, however, are able to attend quite the nicest party of the year—that which the President and the First Lady of the Land are in habit of giving annually for disabled and ill veterans. The first of the White House garden parties for the veterans was given by President Harding, and it has since been an annual institution, lapsing only once or twice due to the illness of the First Lady.

President and Mrs. Hoover this year gave a party, with Red Cross workers and Grey Ladies, who are constant visitors to the men in the wards, accompanying them.

The Red Cross has workers in forty-eight Veterans' Bureau hospitals, and in all regular Army and Navy Hospitals, at all camps and posts, and last year these workers arranged 29,352 recreation events

Mrs. James J. Davis, wife of the Secretary of Labor, a popular member of the Red Cross Grey Ladies, serves a disabled veteran at the White House Garden Party. Above—President Hoover and Mrs. Hoover greet disabled veterans who are in Washington hospitals, at Garden Party on White House lawn. Red Cross workers accompanied veterans.

Picnics in proper season, visits to theaters, with a supper served canteen style by the Red Cross Chapter afterwards, and similar events were arranged for men able to leave the wards. For the mental cases, shows, dances and card parties are given at the hospital centers.

Red Cross work for disabled veterans last year also included handling a monthly average of 12,104 cases by the national staff and branch offices. Red Cross Chapters to the number of 2,821 throughout the nation carried on service work for the veterans and men still in the regular army and navy, and assisted a monthly average of 38,987 men and their families.

War service work for the disabled and the man still in the service called for an expenditure by the National Red Cross of $1,963,000 during the year ending June 30, 1929, and Chapters expended an additional $1,137,000. Support, in part, for this work comes from the annual Roll Call for members which the Red Cross conducts each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

PROMOTERS PLAN TO SHOW CHICAGO BEST FIGHT TOWN

Harmon and Dempsey To Stage Numerous Big Matches There

BY BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Oct. 24. —(UP)—To test their theories that "Chicago is the best fight town in the country," boxing promoters here have prepared an array of cards for the month of November which will cost them approximately $200,000 for the main events.

The real winter fight season begins in November and the promoters are out to take advantage of the boxing interest manifest by fans during the past few months.

At the Chicago Stadium, Paddy Harmon has arranged three bills, all of which he hopes will be sell-outs of his building, which seats 25,000. He gets underway on November 4 with a headliner between lightweight champion Sammy Mandell and Jimmy McLarnin, who once fought Mandell in a title match.

This time the two will be fighting as welterweights. Both have taken on weight since they met in New York and although Mandell still is the lightweight title-holder he has his eyes on the welterweight championship which Jackie Fields now holds. McLarnin and Mandell are two of the outstanding contenders for Fields title and it would not be surprising if one of them engaged in a title match with Jackie here before the end of the winter.

Harmon's two other headliners for the month will find Earl Mastro meeting Bud Taylor and Tuffy Griffith fighting Paulino Uezudun.

The Mastro-Taylor fight is the real natural of the month. The two recently fought one of the fastest draws ever seen here. Taylor a veteran of the ring at 25, appears to be ready for a comeback after he had counted out of the featherweight title running. Mastro, a 19-year-old youngster, is a local boy who can pack them in at the gate and Chicago believes it won't be long before he is champion.

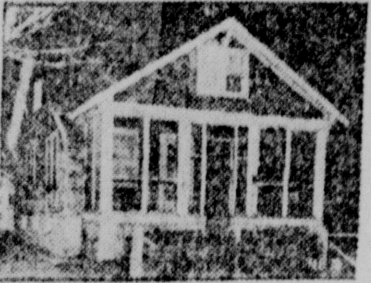

The Uezudun battle will be a real test for Griffith, who has his eyes on that heavyweight title which Gene Tunney discarded. Tuffy thinks he can whip any of the heavies and Harmon has promised him a match with Phil Scott if he gets by Paulino. However, it is quite likely that Otto Von Porat and Tuffy will meet as both have the local background which draws the fans in.

Jack Dempsey, promoting in the Coliseum, has two bills lined up for the month. He has not announced any of his cards yet but he expects to spend in the neighborhood of $60,000 for the two shows.

Mastro and Taylor will cost Harmon around $30,000. Mandell and McLarnin are on percentage and probably will receive about $45,000 for their end. Griffith and Paulino stand to get better than $60,000. Then there are the two smaller clubs run by Jim Mullin and Mique Malloy and both of these have their regular semi-monthly cards scheduled.

Heads of Service

Academies To Meet
Annapolis, Md., Oct. 24. —(UP)—Rear Admiral Samuel S. Robison, Superintendent of the Naval Academy, at Washington next week for a conference which it is hoped may lead to a renewal of athletic relations between the academies. The meeting was suggested in a letter received here Tuesday from General Smith. Admiral Robison said he would go to Washington for the conference.

MYSTERIOUS code messages intercepted and finally solved, led federal agents, directed by William J. Calhoun, above, new prohibition administrator of New Jersey, to the uncovering of the latest liquor smuggling ring in prohibition history. Pictured below is the station, a house at Highlands, N. DRY ARMY ROUTS GIGANTIC RUM RING

Radio Station and Fortress Fall in Biggest Offensive; Bombs, Machine Guns Taken, With Bootleg King

A RUM RUNNER'S RENDEZVOUS, this 20-room mansion at Highlands, N. J., was the headquarters and arsenal for the largest liquor smuggling ring in the country. Prohibition forces who raided it found the upper balcony, visible here, was an observation post, equipped with telescopes. Machine guns were employed to repel attacks. Other armaments of ammunition and bombs were stored in underground vaults and passageways. Liquor was stored in the basement. The interior was like a men's well-appointed club, and three powerful liquor barons directed organization of tremendous proportions, including their own rum fleet plying from Bermuda and Canada.

SPOILS OF THE RAID here are shown being inspected by prohibition agents who were part of the army that swooped down upon the haunts of the nation's largest bootlegging syndicate, operating on the Long Island and New Jersey coasts. Some of the bombs, machine guns, small arms and liquor, as well as the powerful wireless sending and receiving sets confiscated in the raid upon the headquarters in Highlands, N. J., are seen in this picture. One hundred and thirty dry agents, working along a 200-mile front, united in a series of 33 swiftly executed raids.

TRAPPED IN A SENSATIONAL RAID upon the headquarters of a gigantic liquor ring at Highlands, N. J., Emanuel Kessler, left, once known as "the richest bootlegger in the country," and Morris Sweetwood, right, an associate, were later released at Trenton for lack of evidence. They had not been named in federal indictments. Both men have served two-year sentences in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for liquor violations. Thirty-two others were arrested in the concerted offensive against bootleg operators home.

TO SPEND WEEK IN EXPOSITION OF BIBLE HERE

Rev. Lee Ames of the Moody Institute to be at Bethel

Beginning Sunday, Nov. 3rd, and extending through Nov. 10th, the Rev. Lee Wilfred Ames, of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, will deliver a series of Bible expositions and addresses at the Bethel church of Dixon.

This opportunity for intensive Bible study is being provided by its promoters in the confidence that many people of this city, regardless of denominational affiliations will be profited by hearing this well known and scholarly teacher of spiritual and prophetic truth.

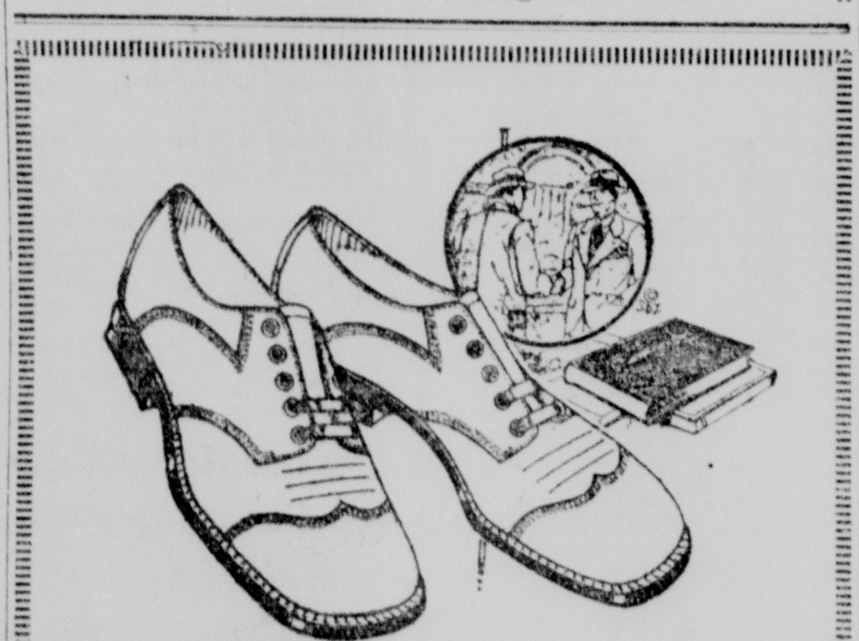

Before his present connection Dr. Ames was for some years pastor of an important church under the shadow of one of the greatest state universities of the nation where his ministry made its appeal to a constantly increasing number of keen minded students and teachers who desired the truths of the evangelical message.

Dr. Ames' familiarity with the original languages of both the Old and New Testaments, his solid scholarship, mental and spiritual integrity and sincerity have commended him to all thinking Christians whose minds hold inquiries about present day problems. He is uncompromising, but sympathetic; courageous, but courteous; consistent and convincing.

All lovers of the Bible and evangelical truth will do well to arrange to be present at every one of the services addressed by this speaker whose coming should prove of outstanding advantage to our city.

Mrs. Floyd Parsons Happily Surprised

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Parsons have just removed from Third street to their attractive new home at 513 E. Eighth street and a company of friends gathered there yesterday afternoon and happily surprised Mrs. Parsons. It was a genuine old-fashioned surprise for she is not yet settled in her new home, but this made the occasion all the merrier.

Bunco and radio music were the delightful diversions for the afternoon, and later all investigated the contents of the well-filled baskets brought by the guests and a tempting luncheon was spread and enjoyed. At luncheon Mrs. M. Lang received the favor for high score; and Mrs. J. Wood presented the consolation favor.

Mary Jane Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Anderson, 1209 W. Seventh street, was one year old yesterday and celebrated the important event with a birthday party which was attended by a number of little tots and older children, too. The Anderson home was gay in Halloween decorations, candles, and flowers and jack-o'-lanterns, etc. A delicious birthday luncheon was served, the cake holding one imposing candle and also bore a number of tiny black cats. The ice cream like the favors and decorations followed the Halloween motif and was frozen as little pumpkins with chocolate filling. Pictures of the tiny folks present were taken and they thoroughly

Mending Basket for Mother

Something Brother and Sister Can Work on Together for Her Birthday.

A mending basket which one can easily pick up and take to any part of the house is a great comfort to the woman who likes to follow the sun about, or combine her sewing with other household tasks. Here is the ideal type of basket whose popularity never wanes. It costs virtually nothing to make, and because it involves a little of both carpentry and sewing, is a splendid present for a brother and sister to work together on for Mother's birthday.

The materials required are a large four or five bag and a small amount of 1/2" and 3/4" lumber and a few screws. The four bag can be had from any baker for a few cents. The stamping is first removed by soaking it in kerosene for a few hours. When it is washed out in warm water and soap, all traces of the ink should be removed. If not, bleach it in the sun for awhile. Then dye it in some soft, rich color—rose, green or blue are very pretty.

You now have a fine piece of colored material a yard square. Cut enjoyed the entire affair although many of them did not know what it was all about, but they did know what to do with the cakes and confections served. Mary Jane received many pretty gifts for her first birthday.

Among the smaller guests present were Marilyn Kelly, Leslie Smyth, Dale Cramer, Lois and Francis Kelly, Shirley McClanahan, Charles Cotter and Donald, Doris and Shirley Rhodes.

Ideal Club Meeting Enjoyed

The regular meeting of the Ideal Club was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. L. C. Street at her home, 320 North Jefferson avenue. The decorations were in harmony with the Halloween season and late autumn flowers also added to the charm of the room.

Comments on "Outdoor Beauty Spots" were the responses to roll call.

"A colonial town to live in modern America" namely, Williamsburg, Virginia; and "Monticello, the mansion of Thomas Jefferson" were the subjects of the articles contributed by Miss Elizabeth Hiller.

Current events of much interest were furnished by Mrs. Robert Fulton.

At the close of the program and during the social hour, the hosts, assisted by her daughter, Miss Alice Street, served appetizing refreshments.

The ritualistic work was put on by the officers in a very commendable manner. Two candidates were initiated on and three new members taken into the order.

Reports of a recent card party were given.

NEW YORK-PARIS FASHIONS

THE jacket and skirt ensemble is still a leading fashion among those presented for Southern resort wear. This season, its newness lies in the fabrics used for the jacket. The skirts are still the old standard—crepe de chine or jersey. After all, a separate skirt is a separate skirt this year or last so let's forget the skirts and talk about the jackets.

Foremost among the fabrics used for these are those made by Rodier, the great French manufacturer of sports materials, who each season gives us some new creation that as time goes on usually becomes a staple. So it was with his kasha, many years ago, and last season it was his asperic.

The particular Rodier fabric chosen for the jacket of the model sketched has the more or less law breaking name of "djerzakapilly, media" yes, every letter of it, which when translated from Rodier's own vernacular means it is a lightweight kasha jersey in a lacy weave with a sparkle of rayon threads running through it and it's a lovely material even if it does sound like a Russian revolution. Here it is in a creamy beige with a skirt of cream.

MANY METHODISTS EXPECTED HERE AT TWO-DAY MEET

World Mission of Christianity Theme of Big Meeting Here

Four Oriental Christians and two missionaries who have had years of service in Japan and the Philippines will be among the group who will present "The World Mission of Christianity" next Tuesday and Wednesday, in the First Methodist Episcopal church. Pastors and laymen of churches in surrounding communities are planning to attend this gathering which is under the auspices of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and directed by Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes and Dr. W. D. Fairchild of Chicago.

The program of the first day of "The World Mission of Christianity" will include an address on "The New Day in Foreign Missions" by the Rev. Samuel W. Stagg, pastor of Central Student's church, Manila, the largest church of college youth in the Orient; "Building the Indian Church" by the Rev. Guizari Lail Lorenzo, of Muzaffarpore, India; "Korea Today and Tomorrow" by Hugh Cynn, General Secretary of the Korean Young Men's Christian Association; "The Anglo-Chinese College for Christ and Country" by President James L. Ding; "What Jesus Means to a Chinese Woman" by Mrs. James L. Ding; "Facing the Issues" by Dr. E. R. Fulkerson, formerly a missionary in Japan. At the noon hour Dr. Stagg will speak to a group of pastors and church members at luncheon.

Bishop Hughes on Program

On the morning of the second day, Bishop Hughes will conduct a discussion group on the subject of evangelism. This meeting will be for the pastors of the district only. Dr. Fulkerson and Dr. Fairchild will also take part in this discussion.

This group of speakers is one of the most cosmopolitan and interesting that has appeared in Illinois

When the Ohio State Limited Left the Rails

This picture shows what happened when the Ohio State Limited, crack passenger train, was derailed near Cincinnati. Rails were ripped for approximately 300 feet, the engine turned over, the club cars and Pullmans jumped the tracks. The fireman was scalded to death.

—representing not only American Christianity but the results of missionary work in the Orient. Hugh Cynn, for example, has spent three years in a Korean jail as a result of his attempt to spread Christian principles in Seoul; and Dr. Ding, upon assuming the presidency of the Anglo-Chinese College in Foochow, in 1927, was threatened with physical violence and death by opponents of Christianity.

One of the most interesting members of the group is Mrs. Emily W. Ding wife of Dr. Ding. Mrs. Ding is the daughter of the Director of the Peking-Hankow Railway; her grandfather was the greatest Confucian scholar of the old China winning a degree that is awarded to one scholar of China only once in each five years; five generations of her family have been officials in the Foochow government a large number of uncles in the consular and diplomatic service to various nations. She herself is a graduate of Hwa Nan College Foochow, and Morningside College, Iowa, and was formerly a professor in Hwa Nan.

Mr. Lorenzo is a native of India, where he has been a Methodist pastor since 1901. Besides his work as pastor, he has served as secretary of the Board of Sunday Schools for India, as editor of the "Star of India" and as a district superintendent.

Dr. Fulkerson has just returned from a year of travel and study in Japan, Korea, China, Malaysia and India. He was for twenty years a missionary in Japan, becoming dean and then principal of Chinzai-Gakuin, a college in Tokyo. He was vice-consul of the U. S. Government at the port of Nagasaki during the Spanish-American War.

Dr. Ding is the first Chinese and the youngest president in the half century of the history of the Anglo-Chinese College, Foochow. He is an alumnus of this college and has

"My! you look lovely to-night"

SHE knew the compliment to be true—for the last pimple had vanished.

If you are one of the embarrassed—and men are not exceptions—with skin blemishes that linger, and sometimes leave scars, you must realize that the logical cause may come from the blood.

A clear, smooth, velvety skin bespeaks loveliness. Men admire it. Women praise and secretly envy. Hope, joy, happiness, and even love, may depend on the possession of a clear, unblemished skin.

On the other hand—skin eruptions are outward evidences of the condition within. Authorities state it is an indication that the body's power of resistance to disease and infection is low. Meaning, that there is a deficiency of red blood cells.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and you sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to diseases.

Perhaps no American has gotten so well acquainted with the young people of the Philippines Islands as has Dr. Stagg in his five years as pastor of the Student Church in Manila, and as editor of "The Philippine Observer." Sentence Changed

San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 23.—(UP)—Leo "Pat" Kelley, Los Angeles butcher boy who last August killed Mrs. Myrtle Mellus, his middle-aged society sweetheart, left condemned row today to start serving a manslaughter term.

Kelley was sentenced to hang Nov. 23, but gained a stay of execution on the grounds that the murder was not premeditated, and his sentence was changed to manslaughter.

In making its decision the high court held there was no evidence to show the slaying embodied malice aforethought.

The case is said to be the first time that a trial court in California had been ordered to modify its judgment from first degree murder to manslaughter without the formality of a new trial.

Every fine car in America is an Eight. In fact, 41 per cent of all makes of American cars are Eights.

Is it any wonder that thousands intending to buy new Sixes are hesitating?

What is a Six going to bring in next year's trade-in markets? How can it possibly measure up in value with an Eight? Those are the questions that every thinking motorist is asking himself.

YOUNGEST KING TO CELEBRATE 8th BIRTHDAY

Mihai of Roumania Enters
Ninth Year—Wants
Gift of Flotilla

By DR. ASRA BERKOWITZ
United Press Special Correspondent
Bucharest, Oct. 24 (UP)—Tomorrow is the day of exceeding importance in the lives of Rumanian people. It is the 8th anniversary of the birth of their king, Mihai, the youngest ruler in Europe. The celebration, however, has quite a different significance for the child monarch than that which it has for his subjects.

For little Mihai the day will be much like Easter or Christmas. It will bring him new playthings, and nothing is so near to the King's heart as toys of a mechanical sort which represent the very latest word in engineering development. Last Christmas the Rumanian locomotive works, Reschitza, presented him with a miniature locomotive and a train of pullman cars. On this, the eve of his birthday, his greatest wish is that he will be able to add to his railway a flotilla with a genuine motor boat which can pull a fleet of barges laden with freight. He came upon this idea when, during his summer vacation, he saw ships plying in and out of the harbor of Constantza.

Unfortunately, Mihai's birthday will not be without its shadows. This time, as has been the case ever since he was four, his father will not be with him to share in his happiness. There once was a time, not so long ago, when his father would ransack the shops of Bucharest to bring home the most beautiful, most imposing looking and most expensive toys for Mihai's birthday. Now, however, Prince Carol seems to have forgotten his son. While he still participates in official ceremonies, such as by sending a wreath to be placed on the grave of his father, King Ferdinand, on the anniversaries of the latter's death, he has not once in the last four years sent a single gift home to his son in observance of a holiday or a birthday.

Bored With Formalities
What Mihai may feel more directly tomorrow, however, is the formal reception of government functionaries and foreign diplomats. He will be compelled to spend half of the day—Princess-Mother

Came the Dawes

"An ambassador is simply an agent representing the President, and the information that he has he holds only as a trustee for others." Thus defining an envoy's status and declining to comment on official subjects, Charles G. Dawes, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, is pictured above with Mrs. Dawes, as he arrived in New York from Europe, 30. Note the familiar upside-down pipe.

He was en route to Chicago on business and will return to London October 30. Helene insisted that the reception be limited to half a day—in having presented to him grown-up, serious looking men dressed in formal clothes and wearing many decorations. They will, according to custom, approach the King stiffly, murmur "Sa traisteti Maestrate" (Long Live Your Majesty), and then retire. Upon previous occasions Mihai has made no effort to hide his boredom with such formalities.

For the people of Rumania the birthday anniversary means that yet another milestone has been passed on way to that day when Mihai will be king in fact as well as in name, when his participation in the affairs of state will bring strong and steady support to their country. But this longing is not shared by the youthful ruler. Not only does he find anything that smacks of a governmental or an official nature distressing, but he is also aggrieved because of the strong differences laid down between himself and his playmates and schoolmates. He would like nothing better than to engage in a real rough and tumble fight with one of his comrades, beat him up and take a chance on himself being beaten up, but much to his sorrow he has not yet achieved this goal. He would like to shout at the top of his lungs, to speak freely and freshly, to make jokes and to find fault; but neither his governess, who follows him about at all times like a shadow, nor the army officer, who also sometimes accompanies him, will permit this.

Liberty More Limited.

As he grows older his liberty of action becomes daily more limited, the work laid out for him increases and so, too, do his social duties. While a year ago he was still permitted to spend several hours a day with his cousin, Prince Dushan of Yugoslavia, playing in the park surrounding Cotroceni palace, today his daily program is measured out with mathematical precision so that when his lessons and his physical exercise is done he has a bare two hours left for walking or for other diversions.

During the last year there was a change in the Rumanian government and although Mihai did not quite comprehend its import he did miss Premier Bratianu from the lineup of ministers presented to him one morning. The King asked what had become of the old, bearded gentleman and wondered whether he had gone on a long journey as his father had done. Not being able to understand the political explanation of the premier's absence, a private audience between Bratianu and Mihai was arranged to show him that the former was still in Bucharest, and this set the King's mind at rest.

Seventy Years Young!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE scorns that ancient prejudice which harshly dictated that age was a limiting factor of usefulness. To-day, old age not only commands respect but demands its place in every walk of life.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

VAST SYSTEM OF WATERWAYS AIM OF PRESIDENT

Given Enthusiastic Reception by Audience At Louisville

BY JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
President's train, Oct. 24. —(AP)—President Hoover was speeding back to Washington today aboard this luxurious special after three days of exposure and hardship such as few Chief Executives of recent times have experienced.

But he was in good physical shape and happy that he had participated in two memorable celebrations and had been afforded the opportunity to put forward at Louisville last night an ambitious program of his administration for the completion of a vast system of inland waterways, extension of the intra-coastal canals, improvement of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence and the deepening of harbors to commerce.

Speaking to an audience in the Kentucky city's new Memorial Auditorium and thousands of radio devotees, Mr. Hoover said this program, embracing the entire Mississippi and its tributaries, would cost only about $20,000,000 additional annually or the equivalent of half a battleship.

Hopes To Save Money
Then he asserted that nothing "could be a finer or more vivid conversion of swords to plowshares" if the nation could be so fortunate as to save this annual outlay of naval construction as the result of the forthcoming naval conference in London.

This brought the only burst of applause from his Ohio river valley listeners in the auditorium and officials with the President viewed this as a demonstration of support which they insist his naval limitation policy has received over the country.

The miserable weather which greeted the Chief Executive upon his arrival at Dearborn Monday for the celebration of the Golden Jubilee of Thomas A. Edison's invention of the electric lamp, followed him to the last. In fact, it seemed to reach its height in the Kentucky city with a driving rain turning to sleet early in the night.

Promises Results
President Hoover's promise in the principal address of his trip that that Mississippi waterway system would be completed in five years brought surprise as well as gratification to that section.

Stabilization of the levels in the Great Lakes; the construction of an additional one thousand miles of intra-coastal canals and the turning over to private enterprise of the government barge and other boat lines on the inland waterways were enunciated as other parts of the administration's program.

And along with these the President told "our Canadian friends" that whenever they had overcome those difficulties lying in their way to improvement of the St. Lawrence as a deep waterway to the Great Lakes the United States would be ready to do its share.

Both the President and Mrs. Hoover were deeply distressed to learn before leaving Louisville that death had come to one of the National Guardsman injured yesterday in an explosion of powder during the firing of a salute to the Chief Executive at Madison during a brief stop of the Ohio flotilla there.

Rockford Truckman Killed This Morn

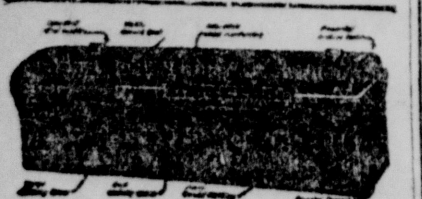

Rockford, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Ignazio Guerrara, 37, driver for local produce firm, was crushed to death today when his truck crashed into the side of a moving Illinois Central freight train and rebounded into the path of a switch engine.

Witnesses said Guerrara, who had been married only recently, apparently attempted to beat the switch engine to the crossing and failed to see the freight train.

Well Known Stockton Man Died This Morn

Freeport, Ill., Oct. 24.—(AP)—William G. Curtiss, 70, president of the Illinois State Farmers Institute and prominent in Democratic politics of northwestern Illinois, died today at his home at Stockton.

Hoover to Ride Ancient Train at Ford's Museum

When President Hoover goes to Dearborn, Mich., on Oct. 21, to dedicate the reconstructed Menlo Park historic Thomas A. Edison community erected by Henry Ford as part of his big museum, he will ride on this ancient train from Dearborn to Menlo Park. The engine is the Sam Hill, sister of the famous General of Civil War days, and the coaches are faithfully rebuilt originals of that period. Incidentally, the tracks have been built to pass Smith's Creek station, where Edison worked as a telegraph operator 50 years ago.

Miami Suburb Flooded by Rising Everglades Streams

How steadily rising waters from the flooded Florida Everglades covered streets and menaced life and property in the Miami suburb of Hialeah is pictured above. This is a view of the main thoroughfare, inundated in the wake of continued heavy rains, as authorities considered ordering the complete evacuation of the town of 10,000 population. Engineers planned to dike the town against further flood waters from the swollen Miami Canal. Scores of families fled the vicinity.

STANDARD DAIRY OPENS ITS PLANT FOR INSPECTION

Scores Passed Through New Institution on Peoria Ave.

Several hundred interested spectators passed through Dixon's new modern dairy plant today, the occasion marking the formal opening of the Standard Dairy on South Galena avenue. Sanitation has been the foreword in the building and equipping the plant which is modern in every respect. During the forenoon, the visitors had an opportunity of seeing the system by which the raw milk is received, weighed and taken through the pasteurizing processes and finally bottled and placed in the big refrigerating room where it is cooled and ready for delivery. Butter and cottage cheese were also seen in the process of making.

E. R. Auman who has built the new model plant, conducted the parties of interested spectators through the building and explained all of the processes of providing clean and pure dairy products for citizens of Dixon. Mr. Auman is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin dairy school and served in the capacity of instructor in the pasteurizing department of that institution following his graduation. He has provided Dixon with an institution of which the city may be justly proud and one which has already attracted the attention of dairymen throughout this section. The plant has been in operation for the past six weeks with a force of experienced dairy workers and the formal opening was held today. Mr. Auman has discontinued the temporary down town station which was located in the Hotel Dixon building and will conduct all the business from the office at the plant.

RITTER, NOW IN BENTON JAIL, IS VERY INDIFFERENT

Last of Birgerites Was Locked Up Late Wednesday Afternoon

BY LELAND CHESLEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Benton, Ill., Oct. 24. —(UP)—Apparently indifferent to his fate, dancer "Connie" Ritter, three years a fugitive from justice on charges of murder, robbery and violation of the prohibition laws, gazed from a jail cell here today upon the spot where his former chieftain, Charlie Birger, was hanged more than a year ago. Yesterday Ritter was brought back to Benton, in the custody of deputy sheriff's and lodged in jail, thereby ending an extensive search which started three years ago.

The dapper gangster was arrested for Illinois authorities of Gulfport, Miss. He had steered clear of arrest since the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City in 1920.

Birger, leader of the famous Illinois Birger gang, was hanged in Benton for the slaying of Adams.

Charlie Birger's henchman, apparently unaware of the serious charges against him, was to see his mother today.

Last of Birgerites
Ritter, the last of the Birgerites, allegedly was connected with two murders, that of Adams and Mrs. Lory Price. Mrs. Price and her husband, Lory, were slain in 1927 after being "given a ride."

Their bodies were found a mile apart, Lory's in a cornfield and his wife's in an abandoned mine shaft. "going to pieces," Ritter was believed to have left the country. It later developed, however, that he had spent much time in New Orleans and other cities. When arrested he claimed to be Fred Randall of Arkansas.

Later, he broke down and admitted to be "Connie" Ritter and on the train enroute to Benton to "face the music," commented that he "might as well get it all over with as they would get me sometime. I probably could have evaded arrest a little longer," Ritter said.

When the gangster alighted from train here he turned his head—as if to avoid seeing anyone he might have known. It seemed as if his mind was miles away.

After being placed in jail he refused to talk—about the murders he is accused of.

Ritter's arrest means the end of a notorious gang that rode the highways of Illinois, allegedly dealing in liquor and other banditry.

PANTAGES CASE MAY REACH JURY SOME TIME FRIDAY

Attorneys are Expected to Begin Arguments This Afternoon

By GEORGE H. BEALE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Los Angeles, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Sometime Friday a jury of six men and six women will begin to deliberate the question of whether Alexander Pantages, multimillionaire theater man, attacked Eunice Pringle 17-year-old dancer.

This appeared certain today as attorneys began presenting the last of the evidence. Final arguments probably will begin this afternoon.

Court opened this morning with Police Officer George Cazier, the last prosecution rebuttal witness, on the stand. His testimony corroborated that previously told by Police Officer Robert Griffin. Both claimed that Pantages told them a different version of what happened between himself and Miss Pringle when she asked him to book her act than he told under oath at the trial.

Girl Denies Story
Miss Pringle was recalled late yesterday, and, speaking softly, yet emphatically, she denied that Pantages' version of what occurred in a little room in the Pantages building so different from hers, was true.

"Miss Pringle, did you grab Mr. Pantages by the necktie?" District Attorney Byron Fitts asked.

"Did you slam the door of the little room shut?"

"When you went to that room did he ask you: 'What do you want?' and did you reply: 'You know what I want?'"

Each time the witness regarded the State's Attorney calmly, then answered: "No, sir."

In those four questions was contained the showman's description of what took place. The young dancer accused Pantages of luring her to the room, attempting to make love and finally, attacking her.

The theater man claims the young

When bicycling was a high type sport, these men were on the "big wheel." Champions of bygone days are pictured above as they gathered at Gwynedo, Pa., to celebrate the fifty-third anniversary of the bicycle at the annual reunion of American Wheelmen. Shown upon the pioneer vehicles with which they won speed honors in the past are, left to right: Arthur A. Zimmerman, world champion in 1890, Charles M. dancer attempted a "frameup" to blackmail him.

Went To Room Alone
Fitts questioned Miss Pringle concerning the statement of Garland Biffie, who is under indictment on a perjury charge, that he saw her in the company of Nicholas Dunaeve, author of her act, as she ascended the stairs to the theater offices.

"Were you accompanied?" the District Attorney asked.

"No," the dancer answered. "Mr. Dunaeve let me out of his car at the curb."

"As you climbed the stairs did you say to anyone: 'If he doesn't book me he'll always be sorry?' and did anyone reply: 'Don't get cold feet?'"

"No, sir," the girl declared.

PROSELYTING BY COLLEGE CHARGE CARNEGIE BOARD

Sensational Report Of Three-Year-Probe Published

BY FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Athletes in American colleges are subsidized today to a point where one every seven receives support because of his athletic ability, a bulletin issued by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching declares.

An investigation which took three and one-half years finds few colleges and universities guiltless of the charge of proselyting.

Educational institutions from east to coast are directly accused of ensnaring prominent athletes to attend, and of paying these boys, directly or indirectly, for their athletic ability.

Commercialism in college athletics, declared in the report to be "the darkest blot upon American sport," is charged to more than 100 of the schools which were investigated by Dr. Howard J. Savage, staff member of the Carnegie Foundation, and his associates.

Out of 112 educational institutions listed by representatives of the Carnegie Foundation, only 28 were found guiltless of the accusation of subsidizing athletes.

Canadians Unsuspected. Canadian colleges and universities came off unscathed, with the remark that "Canadian university sportsmanship is sufficiently strong to prevent recruiting."

For the rest, the Carnegie committee's report was fairly damning. Princeton, Columbia and New York University in the east, Wisconsin and Northwestern in the middle west, Southern California and Oregon Agricultural College in the far west, came in for special condemnation on grounds of proselyting.

Catholic colleges and universities are listed as furnishing assistance to students of athletic proclivities. Notre Dame, Fordham and Georgetown come in for special mention.

"Bulletin No. 23," as the Foundation's latest report is known, whites up only 17 colleges and universities as the charge of recruiting athletes.

Schools at which no evidence whatever of recruiting athletes was uncovered were: Bowdoin, Lehigh, Massachusetts Agricultural College, Middlebury, Trinity, Tufts, Tulane, College of Wooster, Emory, Reed, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Other institutions at which actual acts of individuals could not be charged against the school involved, and which otherwise were unblemished, were: Amherst, Chicago, University of Colorado, Cornell, Berlin and Vanderbilt.

Wisconsin Scored. The report tells how Brown University handles its recruiting correspondence, how Southern California indulges in proselyting and how Wisconsin, despite the denials of its authorities, evades the agreement of the "Big Ten."

The paid football coach comes in for some attention, with information at his average salary, at 100 institutions investigated, is $6,107, or approximately $1,000 a year more than the average highest paid proselytor.

When it comes to subsidizing, which is described as indirectly remunerating the athletes involved, 28 of 112 educational institutions—seven of these Canadian—are named of the charges in question.

They are: Bates, Bowdoin, Carleton, Chicago, Cornell, Dalhousie, Emory, Illinois, Laval, McGill, Marquette, Mass. Agricultural College, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Nova Scotia, Reed, Rochester, Saskatchewan, Toronto, Trinity, Tufts, Tulane, U. S. Military Academy, Virginia, Wesleyan, Williams, College of Wooster and Yale.

The report describes the means whereby various schools invite the attendance of athletes, proselyting by alumni, athletic boards of control, and coaches, occasionally by members of the faculty themselves.

Different Methods. As for subsidies, it describes "jobs pay for tuition, room and board in return for very nominal services" or outright allocation of funds about return except in athletic participation."

An intensively organized, sometimes subtle system, that may coordinate or utilize numbers of agents or off the campus," is in effect at such schools as Michigan, Northwestern, Oglethorpe, Southern California.

MICHIGAN INVADES ILLINOIS SATURDAY

COACH KIPKE - MICHIGAN

CAPT. CRANE - ILLINOIS

COACH ZUPKE - ILLINOIS

CAPT. TRUSKOWSKI - MICHIGAN

CHIEF ILLINI WOLF

WHEN Michigan and Illinois meet in any sport, then comes the tug of war and this is especially true of football. The Wolverines upset the Illini champions of 1928 at Ann Arbor by a score of 3 to 0 and nearly ruined the title aspirations of Zupke's squad. Remembrance of this game and the customary prowess of Wolverine eleven arrayed against Illinois, the Illini are set for a desperate struggle Saturday when the tilt will feature the traditional homecoming at Illinois.

Harry Kipke, youngest Big Ten coach, faces Bob Zupke, whose term of service is only exceeded in the conference by Coach Staggs. Joe Truskowski, Wolverine captain, and Russ Crane, Illinois' leader, are both versatile athletes who compete in more than one sport.

Between 55,000 and 60,000 are expected to see the battle, but accommodations are promised for all-comers.

Two successive nights of rain and snow have made a veritable question mark out of the lineup and conditions of most teams in the Big Ten campaign for Saturday's contests.

Most teams were driven indoors again last night and practice confined to signal, passing and tackling.

Coach Pat Page of Indiana defied the elements for a time, sending his Hoosiers through a hard scrimmage on the mud covered field. The Hoosiers are attempting to strengthen their line, figuring the Ohio State contest may be played in the mud.

Coach Willaman seems to have accomplished at Ohio State, Coach Bob Zupke is still trying to accomplish at Illinois to make his players appreciate his own fears. Zupke is afraid lest Michigan, despite its defeats by Purdue and Ohio State, might hit the comeback trail Saturday and be hard to master. The same Illinois team that started against Iowa last week is expected to open against the Wolverines Saturday.

Coach Harry Kipke still kept shifting his Michigan players for the Illinois battle. His latest change was to send Maynard Morrison, 210-pound giant, to tackle last night.

Morrison is expected to start in that position against the Illini. Tom Roach, another giant, was sent to the other tackle position.

Purdue planned to send the same team, except for the injured Alex Yunevich, that faced Michigan against Chicago Saturday. The Boilermakers have been drilling on aerial attack. At Chicago, Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg was worried about the curtailment of outdoor practice because of the weather. Although his program can be looked for at the Community hall park in Sterling next Saturday afternoon. Two games are scheduled, the first between the lightweight teams being called at 1 o'clock. A good sized delegation is expected to accompany the local team to Sterling.

Harley's trio finished third. He reasons that it would have finished higher, maybe out in front, had not his own miscalculation cost him points at the start that the widest skating could not regain in the final hours of the struggle.

You gather from talk around the winter baseball quarters that some of the boys will have to take a salary cut next year. The top-sided pennant races cut profits to the minimum for some clubs and the added fact that several of the big time stars had poor years presaged sharp pruning in some pay envelopes before the next campaign gets underway.

GRIDIRON NEWS

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(AP)—One secret of the success of Sam Willaman, Ohio State's new football coach, has been revealed. It is his ability to banish the nemesis of all coaches—overconfidence among players.

Although his team is pacing the Big Ten championship parade because of victories over Iowa and Michigan, Coach Willaman has his players more enthusiastic than ever over the approaching invasion of Indiana, a team which is expected to be easy prey for the fast charging Buckeyes.

"Rest up for Indiana?" one of Willaman's players asked last night during practice. No, sir. We are more afraid of Indiana than we are of Illinois. The so-called "easy" teams are the ones to beat every time, and we are working harder for the Hoosiers than we did for either Michigan or Iowa.

SUBSIDIZING OF ATHLETES IS NOT BIG TEN PRACTICE

Officials of Colleges Make Denials Today of Late Charges

By United Press

Charges made by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching that athletes in American colleges are subsidized to a point where one every seven receives support because of his athletic ability were given but little support in the statements of college authorities interviewed today by the United Press.

The comments follow: Minnesota (President Lotus D. Coffman)—"Minnesota does not lack faculty control of athletics. The University Senate has complete charge of athletics at Minnesota. It is a real and effective control that the faculty representatives exert."

Indiana (Athletic Director Z. G. Cleveland)—"Indiana always has tried to conduct its athletics on as clean and high a plane as possible."

Western Conference—(Maj. John L. Griffith, Commissioner of Athletics)—"The report does not give a fair picture of the Big Ten. We have nothing to be ashamed of. I think I am better informed of Big Ten athletic conditions than any investigator for the Carnegie Foundation. And I honestly believe the Western Intercollegiate Conference universities are cleaner in regard to proselyting and subsidizing athletes than are any other ten universities any one can name."

Michigan (Director Fielding H. Yost)—"I know of no system of agents operating either on or off the campus to recruit athletes for the University of Michigan. I would be glad to have any information regarding the same."

Northwestern (Coach Dick Hanley)—"I haven't seen the report, and I can't speak for the years when I was not coach here. But I can say for this year there is no 'intensely organized' recruiting or subsidizing. Northwestern has the smallest football squad of any Big Ten school and we have lost 21 players through scholastic ineligibility."

Purdue (N. A. Kellogg, Director of Athletics)—"The practice of alumni appealing to good athletics is common. I think that all alumni use their influence in pursuing high school stars to go to certain colleges."

High Waters in Hialeah, Fla.

Torrential autumn rains and overflowing streams turned the area about Hialeah, a Miami, Fla., suburb, into a chain of lakes. This striking aerial view shows how the town of 10,000 population, noted for its race track and amusement centers, and the surrounding region of the Everglades, were inundated by the unceasing cloudbursts and rising waters. Streets were converted into rivers and hundreds of families fled their homes.

RAIL PROSPERITY AIDS NATION AS A WHOLE

BY ALLARD SMITH
Vice President, The Union Trust Company,
Cleveland, O.

THE unprecedented prosperity of the railroads this year resulted in an entirely unexpected increase in unfilled steel orders of the United States Steel Corporation for September. Since unfilled steel orders are generally accepted as one of the most reliable business barometers, the outlook is for a continuance of our present general prosperity.

Since April each month had shown a decrease in steel bookings. In April unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation were 4,427,763 tons; in May, 4,304,167 tons; in June, 4,256,919 tons; in July, 4,088,177 tons, and in August, 3,658,211 tons.

The increases in bookings in the early part of the year were due to the great activity of the automobile industry, and the recession since April due to the curtailed production of that industry. A further decrease was expected in September, but instead unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation amounted to 3,902,581 tons, an increase of 244,370 tons over the total of one month before. The falling off of orders from the automobile industry has more than been offset by the railroads. The Pennsylvania Railroad is reported still to have 310,000 tons of rail orders to be placed and the New York Central 200,000 tons of rails.

The railroads and the automobile industry are the two largest customers of the steel industry. At present motor car manufacturers are curtailing production, following a period of unprecedented activity. It is a highly favorable factor for general trade that the railroads are finding it possible to step into the breach with large purchases.

Ruth Dewey Groves
AUTHOR OF
"RICH GIRL-POOR GIRL", ETC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

HELEN PAGE thinks she is in love with her guardian, LEONARD BRENT, who changes his plans for her future after meeting a dying man named NELLIN.

Brent presents the girl to a millionaire, CYRIL CUNNINGHAM, as his heiress and offers proof which the latter's old man accepts without much question.

Among Helen's new friends are EVA ENNIS and her brother ROBERT. Brent finds another locket like the one he had taken from Nellin to prove Helen as the heiress and plots to get Cunningham out of the way quickly. He sixty administers a shock which proves fatal and the servants find the old man dead in bed. Then Brent tells Helen's promise to marry him.

Enter she and Bob realize they love each other but she tells him she is engaged. She tries to get Brent to release her but he refuses and makes dire threats if she dares to marry Bob.

Eva asks Bob why he is neglecting Helen and flirting with SHARILMAR MORRIS. When he tells her that Helen is engaged to Brent she collapses after admitting that he had been making love to her. In a fit of hysteria she tries to take poison but she prevents it and tries to tell her what a cad Brent is.

Helen denounces Brent and he sneeringly tells her she is at his mercy for she is not the real Cunningham heiress but the daughter of one of his crook pals and if she refuses to marry him and keep the money he will expose her as an impostor. Frenzied with worry, the girl refuses food and wanders around the estate alone. One day they fall to find her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLV

HELEN was found sitting beside the lake, chilled but indifferent to her discomfort. In the darkness she seemed a part of the rustic bench on which she sat, so still was she.

Ashe spoke to her in a low-pitched voice, impressed with a sense of tragic unhappiness in her attitude.

She answered quietly that she would not have dinner—they need not keep it waiting for her.

"But might I suggest, miss, that the air is growing chilly?" Ashe said uneasily.

Helen stirred and looked about her, noticing for the first time that daylight had completely gone and a mist was hanging over the shore of the lake. She shivered slightly, got up and walked up the path to the house.

She went to her room and refused Mrs. Wethering's frequently repeated offer to bring her a tray. Presently she locked her door, but a little later the housekeeper was obliged to disturb her again.

"Mr. Ennis is here," she announced, raising her voice to make certain that Helen could hear her. "He insists upon knowing how you are. I have told him that you are disposited but he begs to see you if you aren't too ill to come downstairs."

For a while no answer came, then a voice that Mrs. Wethering scarcely recognized as Helen's told her to send Bob away. "I can't see him," Helen added with a note of fierceness.

Mrs. Wethering concluded that they had quarreled and she was not at all averse to carrying Helen's decision to the young man who waited below in a fever of impatience to be with his sweetheart.

"But I must know that she isn't seriously ill," he protested.

"She is tired," Mrs. Wethering answered stiffly, "and does not wish to be disturbed."

She did not mean to be rude, but Bob sensed the rebuff behind her words and it brought the first doubt of Helen's reason for not seeing him. Perhaps she wasn't ill, after all, and her housekeeper knew she was making excuses.

"Will you carry up a written message to her?" he asked huskily.

Mrs. Wethering could not refuse. Bob took a notebook from his pocket, wrote a few words hurriedly on a leaf, tore it out and gave it to the woman, folded over.

A MOMENT later Helen took it from her through a crack in the door. She read it through tears.

"Unless you are too ill to come down, Helen, please see me," it said. Helen swayed against the door, closing it, and Mrs. Wethering heard her cry: "Oh, I can't, I can't, I can't."

"Miss Nellin! What is it? What's wrong?"

"Tell him to go away! Tell him I can't come down!"

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
